Youth Exposed to Violence

Goals of the Program

- To understand how violence affects us.
- To provide a safe place to express feelings honestly and directly, and to deal with emotional issues.
- To enhance self-esteem and connection with others.
- To realize we are not alone in our experiences.
- To teach and support nonviolent problem-solving skills.
- To begin a dialogue about the taken for granted practices in our society that support violence against women and marginalized groups.

Group Sessions

All groups are free.

The topics covered in each vary depending on the needs identified by the youth. By being flexible and inviting the youth to choose the topics that are most relevant to them, we hope to engage them in creating an environment of shared purpose, trust and respect.

Topics Include

- Cycle of violence
- Types of violence
- Identifying emotions
- Anger and awareness of emotion
- Cyber-bullying
- Self-esteem
- Gang violence
- Conflict resolution
- Dating violence
- Sexual exploitation
- Healthy relationships
- Substance abuse
- Mental Health
- Gender role socialization

Immigrant and Refugee Youth

- Groups for youth who have experienced war and/or torture.

Groups can be offered in classroom settings upon request.

For more information, or to register, please contact Family Service Saskatoon at (306) 244-0127.
